FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT

WELCOME LETTER

Dear colleagues,

We are pleased to inform you that the 2nd International Conference “Environmental Protection and Sustainable Development” will be held in Belgrade from October 3 to 5, 2024 under the motto “Healthy environment - challenge of the modern world”.

This international conference is designed as an event that will enable researchers from various fields, including ecologists (biologists, agronomists, forestry engineers), geoscientists (geographers, geologists, reclamationists), toxicologists and ecotoxicologists, architects, urban planners, technologists, economists, lawyers, doctors of human and veterinary medicine, scientists from the field of culture, and related disciplines, to present the results of their research related to environmental protection and sustainable development.

The goal of the conference is the exchange of information on various topics from these sciences through a three-day forum and scientific discussion. Our team strives to establish new connections between researchers from the region and beyond, in order to maintain connectivity and exchange experiences.

We will try to make the scientific program interesting and current in order to interest a large number of researchers from the mentioned fields.

Also, as part of the Conference, we planned a special session for young researchers from the region to present their student works, participate in discussions and establish cooperation.

It is our wish that, within the framework of the upcoming Conference, look together into the future of environmental protection and the use of natural resources, both in the Republic of Serbia and in other countries, in order to better prepare for the challenges ahead.

We will also take care of a rich social program in order to enable as much communication, exchange of opinions and getting to know the participants as possible.

The official language of the conference is English, but papers will be able to be presented in Serbian, as well. All received abstracts will be reviewed and included in the Book of Abstracts

We believe that by participating in the work of the Conference, you will ensure that it meets the highest level of scientific standards and that it takes place in a pleasant and warm atmosphere, which is why we are looking forward to your arrival in Belgrade.
